

Together, we explore our intellectual passions and challenge the unknown.

WashU is among the world’s leaders in teaching, research, patient care, and service to society.

We want to know each student and what they hope to achieve in college and in life. We work with students to help direct their talents, drive, and energy toward becoming successful global citizens who work to improve their community and the world.

OUR LOCATION

WashU was founded in 1853 and is located in St. Louis, Missouri, a 2-hour flight from New York City or a short 40-minute flight from Chicago. St. Louis is a national hub for important research and business development, especially in the fields of biotechnology and plant science.

Forest Park, the 1,300-acre park located between the Danforth and Medical campuses, is home to the Saint Louis Art Museum, the Saint Louis Science Center, the Saint Louis Zoo, miles of walking/running paths, public golf courses, and an outdoor theater featuring Broadway musicals.

Beyond the Classroom

All first-year students live in one of 10 residential communities on a part of campus we call the “South 40.” Think of it as its own small town, complete with dining facilities, a fitness center, a technology center, intramural fields, basketball and sand volleyball courts, student-run businesses, and so much more. To find out more about how students learn, grow, and thrive, scan the QR code.

OUR AVERAGE FINANCIAL AID OFFER

FINANCIAL AID

- We provide no-loan offers for all undergraduate students.
- We don’t consider home equity when determining financial aid offers.
- The WashU Pledge covers the cost of tuition, fees, housing, and food for all four years for qualifying students from Missouri and southern Illinois.

These initiatives are part of our commitment to ensuring that all admitted students can obtain a world-class WashU education without going into debt.

CAREER READINESS

From day one, our Center for Career Engagement provides students with the tools, resources, and connections they need for career readiness and lifelong success:

- Career coaching and planning
- Career assessment and skills training
- Access to a global community of leaders, recruiters, influencer networks, and WashU alumni
